

You're never alone

When you use openSUSE, you never have to be alone. Because you've got a large group of users all across the world who are all donating their time to help new users with small issues, as well as more experienced users with more advanced problems and questions.

Friendly and there, willing to help you. You are never alone with openSUSE.

openSUSE

Linux for open minds